Two Rides with the Doctor.

BY MRS. S. P. DOUGHTY.

Continued.

Again we are digressing. The doctor's well known tap is heard at the door of a sick room, where, for many days, he has been in constant attendance. Noiselessly he is admitted. The young husband kneels at the side of the bed where lies his dearest, earthly treasure. The calm, but deeply afflicted, mother advances to the doctor, and whispers fearfully low: "There is a change. Is it—oh! can it be the sleep of death?"

Quickly the physician is at the bedside, and anxiously bending over his patient. Another moment, and he grasps the husband's hand, while the glad words, "She will live" burst from his lips. "We may not picture forth their joy. On, on we are riding with the doctor. Once more we are at his own door. Hastily he enters and takes up the slate containing the list of calls during his absence. At a half a dozen places his presence is requested without delay.

A quick step is heard on the stairs, and his gentle wife hastens to welcome him. "I am so glad you have come; how wet you must be!" The parlor door was thrown open. What a cheerful fire, how invitingly look the dressing gown and the nicely warmed slippers. "Take off your wet clothes, dear; dinner will soon be ready," urges the wife.

"It is impossible, Mary. There are several places to visit yet. Nay, never look so sad. Have not six years taught you what a doctor's wife must expect?" "I shall never feel easy when you are working so hard Henry; but surely you will take a cup of hot coffee; I have it all ready. It will delay you but a moment." The doctor consents, and while the coffee is preparing, childish voices are heard, and little feet come quickly through the hall. "Papa has come home," shouts a mimic little fellow, of four years, as he almost drags his younger sister to the spot where he has heard his father's voice.

The father's heart is gladdened by their innocent joy, as they cling around him, but there is no time for delay. A kiss to each, one good jump for the baby, and the cup of coffee is hastily swallowed, the wife receives her embrace with tearful eyes, and as the doctor springs quickly into his chaise, and wheels around the corner, she sighs deeply as she looks at the dressing-gown and slippers, and thinks of the favorite dish which she had prepared for dinner; and now it may be night before he comes again. But she becomes more cheerful as she remembers that a less busy season will come, and then they will enjoy the recompense of this hard labor.

The day wears away, and at length comes the happy hour when gowns and slippers may be brought into requisition. The storm still rages without, but there is quiet happiness within. The babies are sleeping, and father and mother are in that snug little parlor, with its bright light and cheerful fire. The husband is not too weary to read aloud, and the wife listens, while her hands are busied with woman's never-ending work.

But their happiness is of short duration. A loud ring at the bell. "Patient in the office, sir," announces the attendant. The doctor utters a half-impatient exclamation; but the wife expresses only thankfulness that it is an office patient.

"Fine night for a sick person to come out," muttered the doctor, as he unwillingly lays down his book, and rises from the comfortable lounge. But he is himself again by the time his hand is on the door of the office, and it is with real interest that he greets his patient.

"Tooth to be extracted. Sit down sir. Here, Biddy, bring water and a brighter lamp. Have courage, sir; one moment will end it." The hall door closes on the relieved sufferer, and the doctor throws himself again on the lounge, and smilingly put the half dollar in his pocket. "That was not so bad after all, Mary. I like to make fifty cents in that way." "Cruel creature! Do not mention it." "Cruel! The poor man blessed me in his heart. Did I not relieve him from the most intense suffering?" "Well, never mind. I hope there will be no more calls to-night." "So did I. Where is the book? I will read again." No more interrupted.

ions. Another hour, and all are sleeping quietly.

Midnight is passed, when the sound of the bell falls on the doctor's wakeful ear. As quickly as possible he answered it in person, but another peal in heard ere he reaches the door.

A gentleman, to whose family he has frequently been called, appears.

"Oh! doctor, lose not a moment my little Willie is dying with the croup."

There is no resisting this appeal.—The still wet overcoat and boots are drawn on; medicine case hastily seized, and the doctor rushes forth again into the storm.

Pity for his faithful horse induces him to traverse the distance on foot, and a rapid walk of half a mile brings him to the house.

It was not a needless alarm. The attack was a severe one, and all his skill was required to save the life of the little one. It was daylight ere he could leave him in safety. Then, as he was about departing for his own home, an express messenger arrived to entreat him to go immediately to another place nearly a mile in the opposite direction.

Breakfast was over ere he reached his own house. His thoughtful wife suggested a nap; but a glance at the already well-filled plate, showed this to be out of the question. A hasty toilet and still hastier breakfast, and the doctor is again seated in his chaise, going on his accustomed rounds; but we will not accompany him.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 7, 1857.

We have received from Mr. Thomas F. Kaul, a most exquisite bouquet of cut flowers which were selected from his greenhouse in this city. We have rarely seen a more fragrant and richly colored collection of exotics; and the long purplish stems of crimson fuchsias remind us of Evangeline's drenching of the ladder of the angels,—there are a few sweet little purple buds that peep out from the sides of the bouquet, as though just plucked from some "bank whereon the wild thyme grows," and the pink and white rose-buds carry us back to the days when a little girl (who is dead now) gave us a tiny copy of "The Language of the Flowers," and used to meet us on the way to school and hand us bunches of blue-eyed violets, which we called "love posies." Mr. Kaul will accept our sincere thanks for his gift, for altho' about all the poetry is extracted from our composition, yet once in a while it flows back in a pleasant tide and we forget the selfishness and meanness that alloy the characters of so many, and imagine there is "a little heaven" of purity and truth left.

More of the Hunger Movement.

A large procession of workmen, mostly Germans, started in procession from the meeting in Tompkins Square, on Thursday morning, and arrived at the City Hall about half-past ten o'clock. They bore the same banner as on a former occasion, with the inscription—

"Work!"

"Arbit!"

After the crowd had come somewhat to order, the committee appointed for the purpose waited on the Mayor with a document wherein was stated their grievances and asking for redress. Our reporter was refused admittance to the sanctuary, consequently he cannot report verbatim what transpired of the interview of the committee with the Mayor.

Previous to this interview the Committee went into the office of Commissioners of Jurors with a crowd following. They there signed the petition to the Mayor, and while in the act of so doing, which occupied only a few minutes, they were ruthlessly ordered out of the office by Ulysses D. French, much to the chagrin of the Germans, who began to chatter in their vernacular at a great rate; and to the surprise of all present, the Committee retired from the office without a row. The Committee in their anxiety to lay the matter before the Mayor forgot the indignity of being forced out of the Jurors office.

It was understood that Mayor Wood said he would do all in his power for the workmen, that the Common Council would immediately act for their benefit, and it would not be necessary to wait for the session of the Legislature to accede to their demands.

The deputation and crowd will proceed to Tompkins Square when they adjourn, where it was said they meant to disband for the day, but the crowd at one o'clock was no less in numbers, and the speaking was still going on.

Chas. Smith, Chairman; Jas. T. McGuire, Secretary; and six Germans composed the Committee who waited upon the Mayor.

A MAN SHOT ON SHIPBOARD.—About 12 o'clock Wednesday night, Charles Hogg, an English laborer, went on board the steamship City of Baltimore, lying at pier 44 N. R. to see an acquaintance, and while he and several others were together in the mess room, a pistol in the hands of Hogg, went off, either by design or accident, and seriously wounded one of the company named John Kinly. The bullet was extracted by Dr. Jones, the ships surgeon. Inspector Turnbull of the 8th precinct, and officer Mc Dougall, who was near at the time, arrested Hogg, and caused him to be detained, till an investigation can be had. N. Y. Express.

LOCAL NEWS.

We understand that some of the city authorities have taken our article of yesterday respecting the sale of coal and provisions for the use of the poor exactly as we expected, thereby proving the truth of the allusions and the evident necessity which required us to indite it without fear or favor. Possibly we may at a future time give some facts in the premises which will undoubtedly be interesting to the community at large.

As we are told that it will be expected that we will apologize to a committee for the way in which we have treated the matter, we have only to say that we are always willing to do so provided we can be proved in the wrong.

One matter however we are willing to explain and that is we do not wish to class the whole of the CITY AUTHORITIES either as a pack of fools or knaves for we are well aware that there are among them some best men, whom we respect as such. It may be remembered that we have a pleasant little way of introducing facts, affidavits &c., into our articles, as we always try to keep the truth on our side, believing it to be the only true policy.

Our worthy associate Col. Van Zandt has returned home from New York and Boston, at which places he has been for the last four days undoubtedly attending to the affairs of the all powerful AMERICAN PARTY. Poor Van! to think that he should have been stumping Massachusetts for Gardiner all in vain, and that Banks should after all have carried the day.

Quite a misapprehension that. Better stay at home next time and listen to the sage counsels of the venerable senior editor. (He don't mis—He don't!) and supply the city authorities with legal wisdom and intellectual acuteness.

It was our intention to have made a few remarks on the following communication which has been handed in by an esteemed correspondent, but our want of time prevented us from doing so to-day. At a future and not very distant day we shall make allusions to which we have referred.

Mr. Editor.—Have you ever noticed when present, at a large congregation of people, the complete apparent selfishness of the great majority of those present, in holding on, and retaining often times with the most glaring pertinacity, twice the room which they are entitled to occupy. I cannot account for it, for why should people spread out, and especially the ladies now-a-days, more than their extended fashionable forms require, and fill up each end of a bench or a pew, and seem so entirely unwilling to give way, and do unto others as they would that others should do to them. I have often seen ladies and gentlemen go by one aisle of a church, or lecture-room, and go down another stand—wait, and finally go out of the house, because every seat was supposed to be full; when, in many pews or benches, three or four were sprawling out and appropriating the room actually calculated for, and honestly belonging to six. What the particular charm of occupying the end seat, under all circumstances, may be more than I can tell; it surely can make but little difference whether their head is three feet further north or south, east or west,—and I would suggest especially for the lectures now commencing, that each individual attending them, should in case of a crowd, move up together and show up handsomely, and above board all their spare room,—thus may we all learn to give the advantage of a good seat to those who accidentally come a little later at one time, so that the same kind result may be accorded to us, if a little behind hand the next.

What say Mr. Editor, can't you recommend these improvements, and also suggest that when a gentleman goes in with ladies, that he should move up and sit next to them, and not think it his prerogative to hug the arm of the bench, or the top of the pew,—whether or no,—frequently disturbing an assembly by stepping out for others to pass in to the inconvenience of all, and no advantage to themselves.

Yours, truly,

Pro bono Publico.

We noticed a few days since having received a communication from a correspondent that signed himself "Hit Hard," who seems to approve of our course pretty generally in everything. We are aware that we have many warm and true friends, many of whom we can scarcely call by name, the proof of which is to be found in the innumerable letters of commendation like the following which we are constantly receiving from all sources. We have withheld letters of this character thus far pretty generally on account of their complementary strain but whether our vanity and sundry other reasons will allow us to do so much longer is uncertain.

For the Daily News.

MR. HAMMOND.—Your editorial of the 6th is to the point as regards donations for the poor. Let what is done be done independent of our "City fathers" for their acts are known and read by all men, women and children. If coal and flour is furnished for the poor the money will be contributed, a good part of it by those dealing in these articles and they should all have an equal right to make the sales.

You have drawn your lines so far straight now head to them, let the chips fall where they may.

Yours,

Mr. HAND.

The following article from our correspondent CHARITY meets our views, and we would recommend its perusal, not only to the members of the Musical Institute, but to all who take an interest in providing for the poor of our community during the coming inclement season.

[For the Daily News.]

MR. EDITOR.—I noticed an excellent article in your paper of to-day under the head of Local News suggesting some liberal movement to alleviate the sufferings of the poor of this city.

Now Sir I wish to call your attention to this matter to that very liberal and praiseworthy society called the NEWPORT MUSICAL INSTITUTE, and beg to enquire if some one of the many who are interested in that Society could not induce them to give one or more of their chaste entertainments for this benevolent purpose, the proceeds of which could be given according to your recommendation either to the Doreas Society or to some entirely disinterested parties for their disposal to the best advantage.

The poor, as you are aware, have once been liberally assisted by them through the Doreas Society, and I doubt not but that they would gladly respond to an invitation to assist them again.

CHARITY.

KINDLING WOOD.—In large cities like New York where the greater portion of the fuel consumed is anthracite and other mineral coals, Kindling Wood is an article of most significant importance in our domestic economy; and where to purchase a good and cheap supply is very desirable information. The principal establishment in this city is owned by J. T. Barnard, whose office for the reception of orders is located at 294 Front street. The factory and yards cover a large space, extending through to South street. It is fitted with steam saws and splitters of a capacity of at least 200 cords per day. Some fifty hands are constantly employed in the operations; many of the latter in tying the work up in small bundles, which are sold to grocery men and the keepers of small shops, at $1.50 per hundred bundles, they dealing it out at two and three cents per single bundle. Thus the poor always have to pay double for the necessities of life, while those who purchase by wholesale, or in this case by the cord or load, not only save the hundred per cent. profit of the retailer, but also the cost of bundling. Mr. Barnard supplies the Public Schools, many of our Banks, Insurance Companies and other institutions. As his purchases are made on the most extended scale, and the freighting all done in his own vessels, he can afford to furnish parties on more favorable terms than can be found elsewhere. Those who desire, may order by post, directing, 294 Front street.

We cut the above from a New York paper and can fully endorse the convenience and economy of the split kindling wood.—Ex-Mayor Swinburne has a fine stock of it on hand at his Wood and Coal Wharf, and the steam-engine and machinery used for sawing and splitting the wood are in themselves sufficient to repay the trouble of a visit to his premises.

GENERAL NEWS.

We clip from the New York Sun the following on the New Post Office Site.

The Postmaster General, it is understood, frankly avows the opinion that the City Hall Park affords the best site for the new Post Office. The Congressional appropriation limits the price which may be paid for a site, and speculators, we hear, are endeavoring to prevent the sale to the General Government of a site in the Park, by getting up an outside feeling against it. The main point urged now is, that the city should not sell any of its property to the General Government for less than its full value, and that as the Government can offer but about $25,000 a lot for the ground required, and lots in the Park are worth three to four times as much, the Postmaster General should be told that he must look elsewhere for a site.

This is the point which those who bore Postmaster-General Brown, during his visit to this city, wish to carry. But their argument is a weak one. The Post Office is to be for the accommodation of the people of this city—for the city's benefit—and the city had better bestow the ground necessary for the new buildings, than permit them to be placed in an inconvenient, unsuitable location. We trust that the question will be settled at once—that the negotiations for the transfer of a site in the Park to the general Government, will be prosecuted to a successful issue, and that the work of erecting the buildings will be commenced at the earliest possible day. The schemes of a few greedy speculators should not be allowed to obstruct the enterprise, to the prejudice of the public interests.

MISS FLORA McFLINSEY IN ENGLAND.—In a letter from the daughter of a noble lord in England to a friend in this city she says:

"Is Miss Flora McFlinsey meant to represent a person in the highest class of life? For, you know in England the subject of dress is one that is quite ignored in good society. We remark that such a person may dress well, or the contrary, but any lady who talked a great deal, or even showed that she thought a great deal about her dress, would be set down as a bore and, as we express it, would be sent to Coventry."

"We take it for granted that the art of dress comes naturally to a lady-like mind, and requires no thought or effort; consequently any one too smart is generally set down as a person with bad taste and vulgar. This is how we settle things here, and we should not stand Miss Flora for an hour. Our papers have of late written a great deal against ladies' dress, and very rightly too, for the present fashion is absurd and unnatural."

What do our Miss Floras say to that.—Evening Post.

Champlin's Xylophorum, or Hair Restorative and Invigorator, has proved itself to be one of the best preparations for keeping the head free from dandruff and rendering the hair soft and glossy; also for renewing and restoring decayed hair, that has ever yet been invented; R. J. Taylor has it for sale, in large or small quantities.

WESTERN RAILROAD CONVENTION.—The convention of Western Railroad Delegates, in session at Cleveland, adjourned after two days and a half of consultation and action. The measure recommended by the committee, referring to the running of trains, freight and passenger tariffs, the employment of Eastern agencies, free passers, &c., were generally adopted with some modifications. A committee of ten was appointed to confer with the Eastern Railroad Companies. The final action of the Convention gives to Western Company the right to open or retain an office in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, or Baltimore, for the sale of tickets until such time as satisfactory, and just arrangements can be made with the Eastern Companies for the transaction of their passenger business, it being agreed that no runner, bill broker or solicitor shall be employed.

How what one of our Celebrated Physicians says of the Alpine Hair Balm.

"For something like a year past I have suffered from a very unpleasant irritation of the scalp and a constant accumulation of dandruff, with a dry, harsh condition of the hair, which was falling rapidly. I was here induced by Mr. L. B. Patton, Druggist, to try a bottle of the Alpine Hair Balm. After the third application I found that my head was entirely relieved of the intense itching, and that there was evident improvement in the condition of the hair, both in relation to the falling and the harshness of the same; by the time I had used one bottle I found that the condition of the scalp and hair was much better than they had been for one year previous."

C. D. CLEVELAND, M. D.,
Harrison Avenue, Boston.

"Pa, didn't you whip me for biting Tommy?"—Yes, my child; for you hurt him very much.—"Well, then, pa, you ought to whip mamma's music teacher, too—for he bit her, yesterday, right in the mouth; and I know it hurt her, because she put her arms around his neck, and tried to choke him."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

ALPINE HAIR BALM

Restoring Grey Hair to its original Color.
[Warranted to cure Baldness, Scurf, Dandruff, Itching and all diseases of the skin. The Balm gives the scalp a new and healthy action; restores the coloring matter to the roots of the Hair, which passes through the Hair and gives a natural color without the use of Hair Dye.
It keeps the hair from falling off.

Mr. Mason, Sir—I have found a Hair Restorative in your Alpine Balm, which has not merely changed the gray locks for their original, but has given them a glossy hue, which before they never had.

JEREMIAH S. ROSS,

Providence, May 20, 1857.

C. A. P. Mason.—Dear Sir—I am now using the Alpine Hair Balm, which I had of you, with most happy results. On the 20th of June last, my hair (which had been gray for more than six years) was fast falling off; but on the third application of the Balm it ceased falling, and is now firmly rooted, and very nearly its original color. By the use of one bottle, I confidently expect a complete, permanent, luxurious and original head of hair. If every gray haired skeptic would try it, they would become "living epistles, known and read of all men," as having used the Alpine Hair Balm. Yours, &c.

JOHN F. TRESCOTT,
227 Westminster street, Providence.

TESTIMONY OF A LADY OVER 60 YEARS OF AGE.

Mr. Mason, Sir—I write to inform you how pleased I am with your Alpine Hair Balm. My hair has been gray for a number of years, and I have been obliged to wear a front piece and cap, but have always found a difficulty when having a bonnet on to keep the front piece from working back and showing the white hair. Finally I concluded I would try your Alpine Hair Balm; I used one bottle only and my hair has come back to its natural color, which was brown. My hair is now perfectly free from dandruff and is soft and glossy.

Very respectfully,
SARAH LYON.

READ! READ! READ!—The following Certificate of one of our best friends states: "I have been troubled with an affection of the Bladder and Kidneys for over twenty years. I have tried physicians in vain, and at last concluded to give your genuine preparation a trial, as I had heard it highly spoken of. It afforded me immediate relief. I have used three bottles, and I have obtained more relief from its effects and feel much better than I have for twenty years previous. I have the greatest faith in its virtues, and restorative power, and shall do all in my power to make it known to the afflicted. Hoping this may prove advantageous to you in assisting you to introduce the medicine. I am truly yours, M. McCORMICK.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (Times correspondence.)—It is not supposed that the little squad of troops now on their way to Utah will make any very decisive demonstration against the Mormons before they get reinforcements. In the event of any overt act, such as an attack upon the troops, or the forcible ejection of Governor Cummings or the federal officers, it is understood that the President will recommend to Congress extraordinary measures for crushing out the rebellion. The plan suggested is the employment of several regiments of volunteers from Missouri and California, a force of not less than five thousand men. Volunteers are deemed objectionable for the service in Utah, and may be employed temporarily in defending the frontier so as to permit the withdrawal and concentration of regular troops for the Mormon campaign.

A CARD TO THE LADIES. DR. DUPON'S Golden Periodical Pills for Females. Perfectly harmless, yet wonderfully and powerfully efficacious in correcting irregularity, and removing all obstruction from whatever cause.

All medical men know, as well as many others, that no female can enjoy good health, unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or other cause, the general health begins immediately to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, Pain in the Side, Palpitation of the Heart, Leaching of Food, and Disturbed Sleep, do most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils; and may always be used successfully as a preventive. Price $1 per box. For sale at 132 Thames street, corner Church street, and at 12 Washington Square, opposite State House. Orders for the trade as addressed will be supplied at lowest market prices. Ladies by enclosing $1 to STURGIS & CO., Box 801, Newport Post Office, can have the Pills sent (freight) by mail to any part of the city or country. a26-ly

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of PATENTS (Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1857.) No. 76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by any other in America, and which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below give proof that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The business practice of the subscriber during the twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate vast collections of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patent granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS. During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of procuring Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard the business of the Patent Office as one of the most important and useful in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents, From the President of the Commissioners of Patent, August 17th, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. Sec. 12, 1855. Commissioners of Patent.

LOTTERIES.

LOTTERIES—The well known Maryland Consolidated Lottery, of which J. Russell Spalding is the manager, are chartered by the State of Maryland, and a commission is given to the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing.

Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, and that all tickets are legalized by special law in the State. A lottery is drawn every day in the month. If no particular class is named, order are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1.00 to $20.00. No tickets however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order.

The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the drawing) the prize is paid in full. Prizes vary from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over. Address T. HUBBARD & Co., No. 39 Fayette st., or Box No. 40, Baltimore Maryland.

By The Drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: the Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D. C.

LOTTERIES—The Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co., are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co., are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $10 to $50,000; every prize being drawn and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount that each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book.—Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta Georgia. Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries. All communications strictly confidential.
